ABOUT THE ALINKER R-REVOLUTION

The Alinker is not just a new mobility vehicle that encourages an active lifestyle: it's a vehicle for social equality by eradicating stigma. The Alinker is suitable for three target groups; people with walking disabilities, athletes and recreational users. The Alinker is a mobility vehicle that allows the user to engage muscles and travel longer distances with less fatigue. It increases independence and freedom and makes more social activity possible.

In addition; using the Alinker you train specific muscle groups (including hamstrings) and improve your overall fitness.

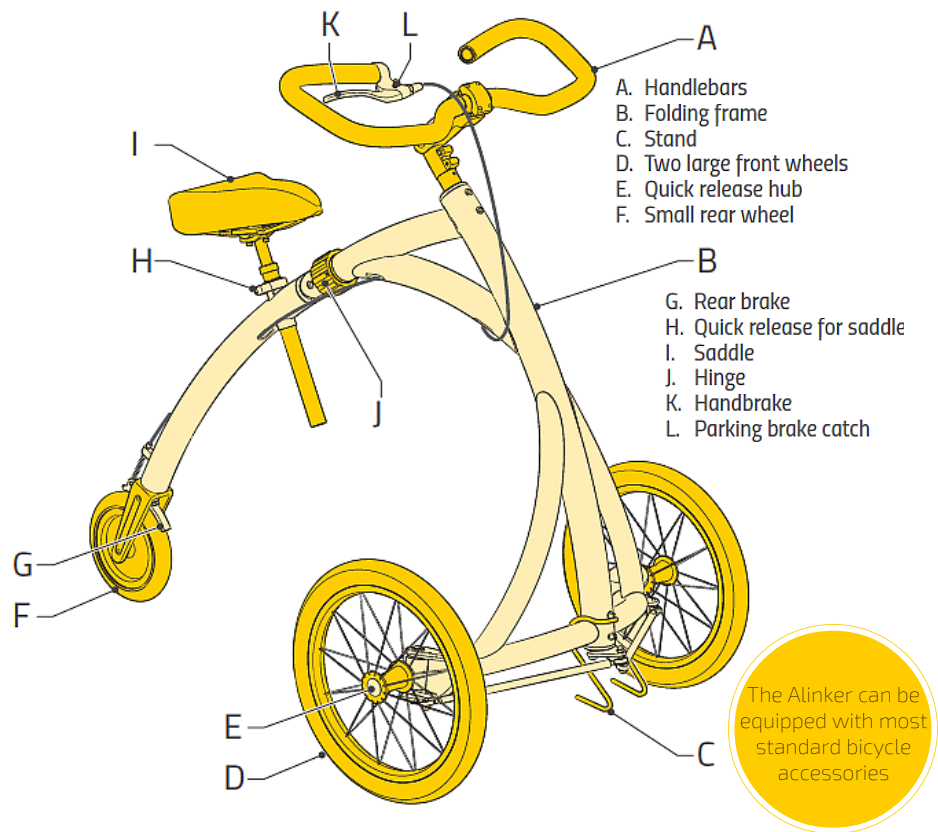

When using the Alinker R-revolution you are seated upright, at eye level to your environment. Now it is possible to reach upper shelves, view the world at eye level, and hug your family and friends from an upright and hands-free position.
